Statements From Party Points of View.

MR. CANNON EXPLAINS

REASONS GIVEN FOR THE IN-CREASED EXPENDITURE.

Mr. Livingston Compares Figures With Those of the 53d Congress, When Democrats Controlled.

The appropriations made by the short session of the Fifty-seventh Congress just closed, as viewed from a republican and a democratic standpoint, are presented today by Chairman Cannon of the House appropriations committee and Representative Livingston, the ranking democratic member of that committee. Mr. Cannon's statement follows: "The appropriations made by the second session of the Fifty-seventh Congress, including the permanent annual appropriations and appropriations for the postal service, amount to $753,484,018.29. "I will submit and print as a part of my remarks the usual table giving the history of the appropriations of the session, in which there are indicated, by titles of the regular bills, the amounts estimated and the amounts of each during the several stages of their consideration up until the final agreements thereon, together with the amounts appropriated for the current fiscal year at the last session of Congress.

A Comparative Statement. "By this table it is shown that the reguar bills for the annual support of the government appropriate in the aggregate for the next fiscal year $506,082,625.82, being an increase of $282,151.72 over the appropriations of the last session, and that all appropriations authorized at this session, other than those appropriated for under what are known as permanent annual appropriations, amount to $620,894,198.29, or $55,809,078.26 less than the like appropriations for the last session. In connection with the appropriations made at the last session for the current fiscal year, however, it is proper to say that they include $50,130,000 on account of the isthmian canal and more than $6,000,000 on account of deficiencies than was appropriated at the present session.

"Comparing by bills the appropriations of this session with those made last session, the following differences are indicated: "On the agricultural bill, an increase of $769,200.

"On the army bill, a reduction of $13,591,-383.58, which in itself is a proof of the good faith of the republican party in its pledges to reduce and maintain the military establishment of the country on the lowest pos-sible effective basis.
"On the diplomatic and consular bill, an increase of $10,325.
"On the District of Columbia bill, an increase of $103,027.03.

"On the fortification bill, a reduction of "On the Indian bill, a reduction of $473,-077.63. 077.63.

"On the legislative, executive and judicial bill, an increase of $2,199,272.16, made up chiefly on account of the transfer of $926,-460 to this bill from the sundry civil bill for expenses of the permanent census office and by the addition of $500,000 to enable the force the interstate commerce and anti-"On the Military Academy bill, a reduction of $1,974,075,75. "On the naval bill, an increase of $3,920,-928.30.

"On the pension appropriation bill, an increase of $5,370. "On the post office bill, an increase of $15,084,951.

"No river and harbor bill was passed at this session. The one enacted last session appropriated $26,771,442.

"On the sundry civil bill, an increase of $22,109,595.97. In this bill there is included $20,233,150 for the continuation of river and harbor, improvements, under sutherized harbor improvements under authorized contracts, which sum is an increase of $14,-464,392.50 over the amounts appropriated at the last session.

"For deficiencies, as stated before, a reduction is made of $6,488,434.85.

"For miscellaneous purposes, carried in separate acts, it is estimated that an aggregate of $3,250,000 is appropriated; an increase of $527,204.87 over the last session.

Permanent Appropriations. "On account of permanent appropriations, which, as their name implies, are permanent or continuing provisions of law providing for certain expenditures, such as interest on the public debt, the requirements of the sinking fund, the expenses of collecting the customs revenues, and certain trust funds, an increase for 1904 appears, according to the estimates of the Treasury Department, of $8,668,600 over the aggregate of the estimates for the current

"Of this sum $5,000,000 is for redemption of national-bank notes out of moneys de-posited for that purpose by the banks, $1,500,000 is for refund to importers excess of deposits made by them, and a new item of $700,000 is from proceeds of sales of pub-lic lands which were dedicated by the act passed at the last session of this Congress to the reclamation of arid lands in certain states and territories. An examination of the details of the permanent appropriation estimates also discloses the gratifying re-sult of a decrease in the annual interest charge on the national debt of $2,000,000 for the ensuing fiscal year.

Appropriations in Both Sessions. "The sum total of appropriations for the two fiscal years 1903 and 1904, made by this Congress, amount to $1,554,108,514.84. This sum exceeds the aggregate of appropriations made by the previous Congress for the years 1901 and 1902 by $113,619,075.97, and yet an analysis of the appropriations made by the two Congresses shows that the Congress just expiring has appropriated alone for the navy, for the postal service, for improvements of rivers and harbors and for the construction of public buildings and for the construction of public buildings the sum of $115,382,136.49 more than was appropriated for those objects by the preceding Congress for 1901 and 1902.

"To state it another way: This Congress has given in excess of appropriations made by the Fffty-sixth Congress $17,490,946.89 toward the increase of the navy, an expenditure that is indorsed by the whole people for by this generous provision for the ple, for by this generous provision for the upbuilding of our navy they realize that our country is placed in the position where we can maintain our rights on the high seas of the world and repel from our shores, with the aid of our now nearly perfect system of coast defenses, the invasion of any

For Postal Service

"For the postal service the increase in appropriations over those of the previous Congress amounts to $54,377,221, a sum greater than that service cost in any fiscal year prior to that of 1888; and yet the service is now more nearly self-sustaining than it has been at any time during the past eighteen years. The universal and unprecedented prosperity throughout the country is un-mistakably attested through this most sensitive pulse of our whole system of governmental machinery.

"For the improvement of our waterways and the harbors for commerce along our seaboard the appropriations for the periods "Public buildings authorized by this Conrepublic buildings authorized by this Congress, to be constructed in our chief cities and towns, have required appropriations of $3,987,847.85 more than was appropriated by the Fifty-sixth Congress.

For Isthmian Canal. "And in addition to these increased appropriations made at the two sessions of that has produced a national treasury riches than was ever enjoyed by any nation of the earth and rendered possible these great expenditures for the public welfare."

Mr. Livingsten's Statement.

Mr. Livingston's statement follows:
"I submit herewith a tabular statement showing the appropriations for the fiscal years 1895 and 1896, made by the fifty-third Congress, which was controlled in both of its branches by the democratic party and its branches by the democratic party and during Mr. Cleveland's administration of the government, and the appropriations made by the fifty-seventh Congress just closing, for the fiscal years 1903 and 1904. The latter contrasted with the former bears upon its face its own criticism.

"During the first period named, the total of appropriations amounted to only $989,-239,205.69, while for the latter period they reached the astonishing total of $1,554,108,-514.84; and, adding thereto the contract obligation s in excess of appropriations made, namely, $262,711,465, authorized at the first session of this Congress, together with approximately $35,000,000 authorized with approximately $35,000,000 authorized during the second session just closing, we have a sum exceeding $1,850,000,000, or dangerously close to the two-billion-dollar mark for a single Congress.

For Military Expenses. "I will not undertake to analyze figures as they appear in this table, but will content myself with calling attention to only a few of the sallent facts developed therein. During the Fifty-third Congress the total appropriations for the military and naval service of the government, not including those for pensions or for the maintenance of soldiers' homes, aggregated $106,791,223.04, or a little more than one-tenth of the whole appropriations made. During the Fifty-seventh Congress, which made appropriations for the current and for the coming fiscal year, the sums devoted to these objects amounted to $348,370,478.11, or more than year, the sums devoted to these objects amounted to $348,370,478.11, or more than three times what these necessary branches of our public service cost under democratic legislation and administration, and more than one-fourth of all of the appropriations for the two years.

"The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which provides substantially for the civil list of the government, has increased over and above the amounts that were found sufficient during the fiscal years of 1895 and 1896 by more than $9,000,000.

"The sundry civil or omnibus bill for 1895 and for 1896 has been increased by this Congress more than $62,000.000.

Deficiencies More Than Double The deficiencies which this Congress has seen fit to make up in appropriations for the republican administration are more than double those which resulted during the administration of the government in 1895 and priations during the Fifty-third Congress amounted to less than a million dollars, while those of this Congres will probably foot up to not less than $6,000,000.

"The permanent annual appropriations, which provide chiefly for the interest on the retired dollars, the received doctors." the national debt and for the requirements of the sinking fund, have been increased more than $30,000,000. "Nothing short of a revision of the tariff on a revenue basis and the administration of the government under the wise and prudent methods of the democratic party can be looked to to bring about a reduction in be looked to to bring about a reduction in the national expenditures, exhibited by these figures in such appalling proportions."

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Theodore Eichberg Convicted of Beating Man 76 Years Old.

Theodore Eichberg, thirty-two years of age, a watchman at the bureau of engraving and printing, who resides at 120 E street southeast, was convicted in the Police Court this afternoon on a charge of committing an assault upon Theodore Haussman, and paid a fine of $30, imposed by Judge Kimball. Haussman, who is sev-enty-six years old, held for a number of years the position of United States consulin Central America, but is now employed as a watchman at the bureau of engraving and printing, where the alleged assault is said to have occurred the 25th of last month, following a misunderstanding between the two men.

The complainant explained that Eichberg attacked and beat him over the head with an iron rod in addition to throwing him and the floor. Fighberg devied that he at the floor. upon the floor. Eichberg denied that he attacked Haussman with an iron bar, as Claimed by the latter, and declared that Haussman threw the rod in question at him, and that during a tussle which followed the complainant struck his head against a box on the floor. The court, however, failed to accept the defendant's version of the affair and directed the clerk to note a conviction against him.

CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY. Nathan Sprague Taken Into Custody-Denies Wrongdoing.

Nathan Sprague, colored, sixty years old, a real estate dealer, was arrested this afternoon by Detectives Cornwell and O'Brien on a warrant alleging grand larceny. The warrant was issued on the oath of Mrs. Della Sherman of 922 23d street and charges the larceny of $400 worth of furniture. It is alleged that Mrs. Sherman gave Sprague her furniture to store and that he borrowed $35 on the warehouse rethat he borrowed $35 on the warehouse receipt. This, it is alleged, occurred in July and the furniture was sold in November. It was only a few days ago that Mrs. Sherman learned what had become of her furniture. The defendant denies that he is guilty of any wrong doing in connection with the furniture. Judge Kimball will settle the dispute in court temporary. tle the dispute in court tomorrow.

Property Valued at $30 Stolen.

Burglars entered the house of Richard C. Lappin, No. 10 12th street northeast, between 11:30 o'clock last night and 5:30 o'clock this morning and carried off property worth about $30. The house was entered by forcing open a basement window. The property taken consisted of silverware and cutlery. Detective Tyser investigated the case, and found that the window had been forced open with a chisal been forced open with a chisel.

Given Medical Treatment. Stanislaus Sykowski was arrested this morning at the Baltimore and Ohlo depot by Detective Reynolds and Policeman Lynch and held at the sixth precinct until the police surgeons could examine him to pass upon his mental condition. The surgeons found the man in need of medical treatment, but did not find any evidence of insanity. Sykowski was sent to the Wash-ington Asylum Hospital for treatment.

Oyster Canning in the South.

"Charlestonians are how greatly interested in an oyster canning factory which recently began operations in our city," said D. J. Merchant of the southern city to a Star man at the Arlington this morning. "The factory was built on the most modern lines, and from the time of landing the oysters on the wharf-until they are put in the cars ready for shipment no time is lost. From the wharf they are moved on minia-From the wharf they are moved on miniature ears, rolled into the opening benches, where a large number of hands are at work with the knives. Afters opening they are passed to the canners, only a few yards away, and soldered up. The cans are taken to kettles and boiled, and are then ready for the labeling machine and the packers and shippers, to be sent by them to various parts of the country. At the close of the oyster season the factory will be used for the canning of fruits and vegetables, so that it will be in operation practically the entire year, giving employment to a large number of men, women and children."

Origin of the Seedless Tomato.

"Would you believe that the dread disease 'appendicitis' is responsible for the delicious tomatoes now being raised in the truck farms of the south?" asked a Mr. Fitzhugh of Atlanta, Ga., of a Star man at the Ebbitt this morning. "It is a fact, how-ever. Not very many years ago, when ap-Frazier colored to the seeds of fruits and vegetables full of seeds should be given up. Commissioner Richards of the general and office sounded a vigorous warning yesterday to the employes of his office who are disposed to work out of harmony with their subordinates or superiors. Mr. Richards intends that the office over which he presides shall be one of the most harmonious and businesslike institutions of the government. He has stated several times that unless the employes all do their utmost to bring about this end, public business will suffer and public interests decay.

Commissioner Richards took occasion to bring up sharply one of the most important officers of his department in another section of the country. This officer, Surveyor General Eagleson of Idaho, is charged with endeavoring to make his office so uncom-endeavoring to make his office so uncomfortable for Mr. Alexander Schlegel, his chief clerk, that he will resign or get out in some manner and a friend of his chief can be appointed in his place. This state of affairs was discovered by one of the inspectors of the land office who was sent to Idaho to make an investigation. The letter of Commissioner Richards is regarded as one of the most vigorous and positive attempts toward establishing amity and good fellowship between the employes of the government that has ever been made by a public official, in that it threatens with dismissal the surveyor general unless he can change his views regarding his chief clerk. Commissioner Richards states:

Schlegel must be recognized as the chief clerk of your office by yourself and your employes, and all of the details for the public business usually considered as a part of the duties of that position assigned to him."

"It is apparent that you have not complied with these instructions; that it is not your intention to allow Mr. Schlegel to perform all the duties of chief clerk, but rather that it is your intention to make his position so uncomfortable that he will be compelled to abandon it.

"The course which you have been pursuing in this matter will not be longer tolerated. You are hereby required either to state that you will accept the decisions which have been rendered in this matter in good faith and that you will comply fully good faith and that you will comply fully with the letter and the spirit of the inwith the letter and the spirit of the instructions heretofore sent you in connection therewith, and that you will fully recognize Mr. Schlegel as chief clerk of your office and permit him to perform the duties pertaining thereto and accord to him such official courtesies and treatment as he is entitled to, or to at once forward your resignation as surveyor general for the state of Idaho. In the event that you do not reply to this communication within a reasonable time, or that you decline to comply with either of the above requirements, you will be summarily removed from the official position which you now occupy without further notice."

Sculptured in a Mackintosh.

From the Cincinnatt Enquirer.

day that death came, and he was well pre-pared for the weather. He was wearing a broad-brimmed hat, a mackintosh over his suit of clothes and his trouser legs were in his rubber boots.

The members of the family, wishing to remember him as he looked when last he bade them groudly a mandayed a mandayed a bade them good-by, employed a man about the same size and build as Mr. Reighter to have his photograph taken in the clothes last worn by the deceased, and when he had ast worn by the deceased, and when he had carried out his idea they replaced the head on the photograph with the head of a likeness of Mr. Reighter.

This picture was sent to a sculptor in Italy, with the request that a life-sized statue be made from it in Italian marble. The statue is true to life. It cost $5,000.

Woman Suffrage in Australia. From the Philadelphia Press. The advantage or disadvantage of woman suffrage will have a thorough test in the new commonwealth of Australia. Every woman will have the same right to vote that every man has in the federal election that every man has in the federal election there next year. In New Zealand and South Australia women have voted for several years, but under the confederation of all the provinces into the commonwealth the women will all vote. They number 854,000 and the men 973,000, so the men will have the advantage. But in some of the provinces and in some of the cities the women are in the majority, a rather unusual thing for a new country. A good many young women, it is thought, will not vote because unwilling to admit that they are twenty-one years old, while a considerable number of older women have opposed woman suffrage.
